

Our aim is to continuously improve and to sustainably enhance our company's value. That is why we are supporting you to grow professionally and personally, to achieve your goals and to develop your individual career. Find a new opportunity - nationally or internationally - within the organization to contribute your abilities and ideas and to uncover your potential.

We are looking forward to continuing to work with you within the Siemens family!

Test Engineer

Siemens Corporate Technology is looking for Test Engineers to join the team that develops and maintains i.s.h.med, one of the top integrated Hospital Information Systems based on the SAP platform, with target markets such as Europe, South America and Asia. The product development is done in cooperation with SAP AG, with teams located in Germany, Austria and Romania.

What are my responsibilities?

- Test definition and execution
 - analysis of test requirements
 - preparation and refinement of Test Cases
- Systematic testing
- documentation of Test Cases and their execution
- tracking troubleshooting
- Test planning and coordination of testing projects
- Evaluation of test results
- Establishment and maintenance of test equipment and environments
- Contribute to the development of new test strategies, methods and landscapes
- Work in a Scrum team
- Assisting in the development of quality standards regarding the testing process and its monitoring
- Participation in Quality Management activities to ensure the specified quality and process standards.

What do I need to qualify for this job?

- Several years of experience in software development and software testing
- Experience with test methodologies
- Good knowledge of software development methodologies

- Experience working in a Scrum setup is desired
- Clinical and SAP knowhow are considered an advantage
- Initiative, analytical skills, result orientation, organizational skills, focus on quality
- Communication skills, team spirit and self-motivated
- Advanced English, written and spoken
- German knowhow is a big advantage.

Benefits

- Attractive compensation package and work climate
- Meal tickets
- Yearly bonus system
- Private health and life insurance
- Private pension
- Flexible schedule and work from home policy
- Personal and professional development

To apply directly on our career page, please use the following link:

www.siemens.ro/cariere